VOLUME TWENTY-EIGHT

NINETEEN HUNDRED FORTY-FOUR

m p i a n

Mr. Shuler Antley,

Superintendent of the
Marietta School System

Dedication

"Yet he was kind; or if severe in aught,
The love he bore to learning was in fault."

What a privilege it is for us to have as the guiding hand of Marietta High School, a man who is kind and just, an administrator who because of his love for boys and girls, firmly stands for achievement, for real achievement on our part in scholarship, in skill, and in self-discipline.

It is with pride and appreciation that we dedicate this volume of The Olympian to our superintendent, whose leadership may be symbolized in the calm, kindly, wise administrative power of Zeus, the ancient ruler of the gods.

Foreword

Because the story in picture and fact of this war-year of 1943-'44 at Marietta High School is epic in its significance to those who have been a part of it; and,

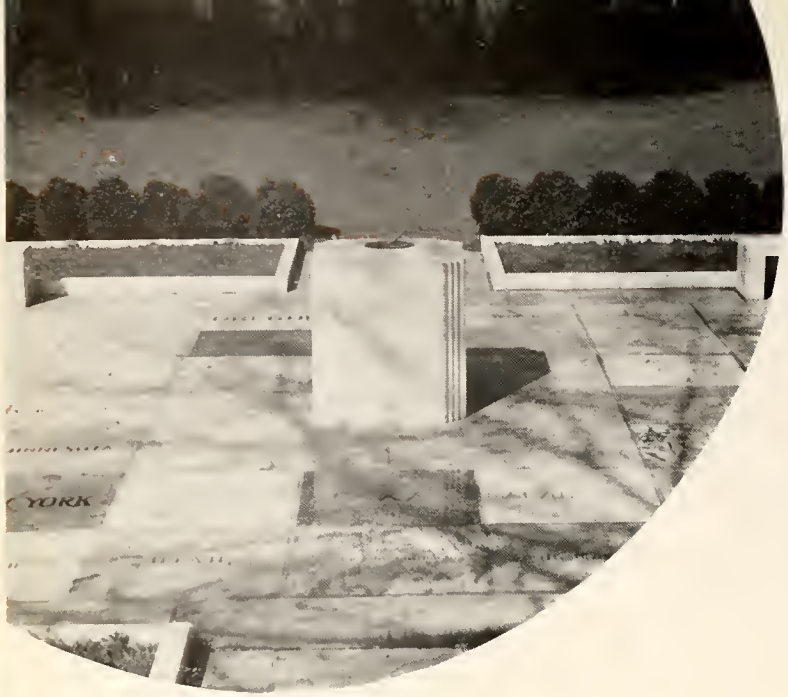
Because high school days may be thought of in terms of fact and fancy, and of realities and ideals, even as could be life from whence sprang the myths of the "Golden Age"; and,

Because Marietta High School stands for culture, for strength, for learning, for qualities of body, heart and mind which have endured since the days when early man sought to endow gods and goddesses with these powers and qualities; and,

Because we believe that, although our world is rocking with tempestuous war activities, we, as American youth, may be permitted brief respite in this volume depicting the glamorous and arduous events of the past school year before we turn from its pages into another era of activity . . .

We present to you the result of our Herculean efforts and we invite you to enjoy with us through winged words and pictures

THE 1944 OLYMPIAN



Alice McClellan Birney Memorial on campus honors the founder of the Parent-Teacher Association.

New Winn Street Junior High School will be in use in 1944-'45.

Band, pre-flight, and physical education classes meet in the Brumby Recreation Center.

Faculty and Administration

ZEUS, Ruler of the Gods. "Thou wilt lift up Olympus."—SHAKESPEARE.

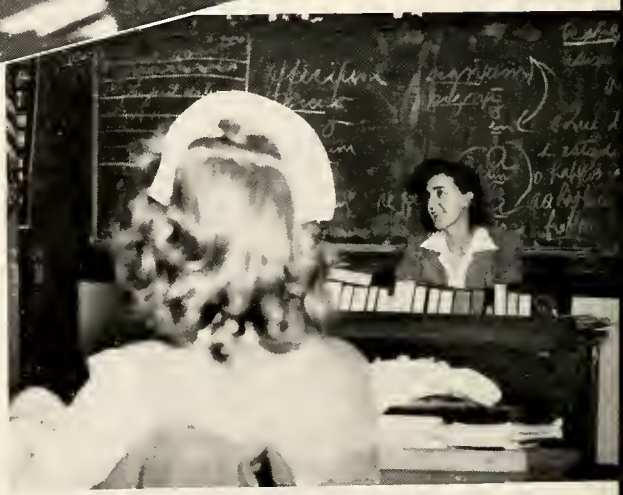
Faculty

Mr. H. Ewell Hope (A.B., Yale University; M.A., Princeton University) is senior English instructor.

Miss Clara Nolen (A.B., Athens College) presides over sophomore English classes, as well as some junior sections.

Miss Ruth Sanders (A. B., Journalism, University of Georgia) teaches freshman English.

Mrs. Fred Swain (A.B., Education, University of Georgia) spends part of the time teaching World History and the other part working with freshman English groups.



Miss Jewell Trippe (A.B., Shorter; M. A., University of Georgia) is Latin and Spanish instructor.

Miss Christine Booth (A.B., Mercer) keeps a watchful eye on young chemists and physicists. Biology and general science classes round out her day.

Mrs. James R. Callison (B.S., Georgia State College for Women) teaches biology. She is also girls' physical education director and girls' basketball coach.

Miss Mildred Sessions (A.B., Wesleyan) is high school coordinator of the diversified training program and world history teacher.

Mr. Harrison L. Anderson (A.B., University of Georgia) harries seniors into learning American history. The boys go for his physical education classes in a big way.

Miss Rose Lee (A.B., Meredith College; M.A., Education, Temple University) is civics and occupational guidance director.

Mrs. E. G. Livingston (B.S., Kansas State Teachers College) teaches bookkeeping and shorthand.

Miss Mary Ellen Smith (B.S., Commerce, University of Georgia) teaches typing and shorthand.

Mr. E. D. Covington, principal (B.S., Western Kentucky State Teachers College; M.S., University of Tennessee) supervises industrial arts, popularly known as "shop."

Miss Marjorie Upshaw (A.B., Oglethorpe University; B.M., Bessie Tift) is director of choral music for the entire Marietta school system.

Mr. H. D. Remble (A.B., Emory University) combines band directing with instructing classes in general science and prefight aeronautics.

Mrs. J Rae White (A.B., Agnes Scott College) tutors the sophomores, juniors and seniors in mathematics.

Miss Callie Bell Webb (A.B., Georgia State College for Women) presides over freshman math classes.

Miss Catherine Alley (A.B., Wesleyan) teaches mathematics.

Miss Juanita Pitts (B.S., Home Economics, Georgia State College for Women) teaches home economics II.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson (B.S., Home Economics, University of Georgia) teaches freshman Home Economics.

JUNO, Queen of Olympus. "But hail! Thou Goddess, sage and holy."—MILTON.

Mr. and Miss Senior — Harwell Stovall and Mary Marler.

IT'S GREAT TO BE A SENIOR

The strains of a march vibrate over the warm spring air. In solemn stateliness, youthful figures wind their way down long aisles. Words ring out through the stillness — one at a time. Each figure turns his cap. Shouts penetrate the silence, and throats grow tight. A tear finds its way down an upturned face. The melody of Auld Lang Syne is the end — the end of what — a study course, an acquaintance? No, not just "four long years" — but part of each life is gone — the obstacles, the triumphs, and the memories. Yes, the memories are the things that bring the tears and cut into each heart — memories of the day Bill gave me his ring, the day Sally smiled at me for the first time, the afternoons at the drug store with the kids, the smell of new books, the day I made "A" on that mean old subject — Memorial Day, when it rained, the friends I made and lost. Seniors — those "older" people the underclassmen look at, and say, "It must be great when you're a Senior!" Yes, it is but it's all over. Whether it was well done, or a poor job, it's done, the record is there, and time has come to go out — out into a bright, new world, to make the best of what he has "gotten" at school.

Only the ninety that tread those aisles, and accept a diploma know that feeling that in expression means "goodbye."

President Fred Hamby, seated; Vice-President Allen Cairnes, also seated; Secretary Harwell Stovall, extreme right; and Treasurer Talmadge Hadaway, talk over "affairs of state."

The first week we seniors enrolled as freshmen, it was said that education would be revolutionized. Jovial as it was meant, it seems now to be true.

We weren't initiated as freshmen. Some said they were afraid of us. We got attention the next year — the first sophs to be in Quill & Scroll and on the publication staffs. We had so much fun at Athens and at Milledgeville (all-state chorus). Our Glee Club rated Number One throughout Georgia. Then we stepped out as juniors, and also claimed presidential titles of clubs — another first. But of all the fun, we had the most as seniors. We fought with the football squad—a great little team. We cheered our basketball team on to victory after victory, one of the top teams in the state. Our baseball team topped it all.

We dined and danced among the largest crowd in history at the Junior-Senior Banquet. We laughed and applauded at the Senior Play — and were sorry when it was over. Our play was one of the best — we think the best.

Who was it that said, "Don't look back"? We glory in our past, and how we will miss the school that is ours!

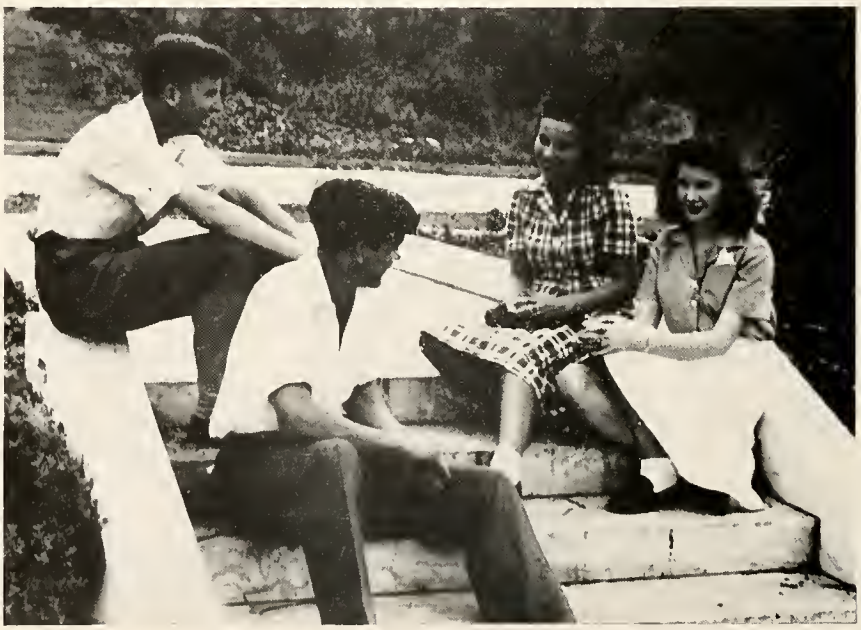
Though Juniors Still Love Jest and Jollity, With Them It's Learning, Plus Frivolity.

Veterans of three long and lean years of higher schooling, the Junior class now enters its home stretch. They have contributed much to MHS in the past three years and are destined to contribute much more.

'Spindle Shanks' Lewis Ledsinger and Annie Laurie Thomas, the Juniors' feminine pride, pose for a snap. They were elected Mr. and Miss Junior Class as delegates for the coveted positions of King and Queen of the Valentine Ball.



Politics require careful handling in the junior and senior years, and these are the officials to do just that. President Donnie Jo Terry, top step, smiles at Treasurer George Hardeman, top step. Vice-President Mary Edwards and Secretary Warren Quarles, below them, discuss the Junior-Senior Banquet.

FIRST ROW: Ruth Richardson, Sybil Phillips, Frances Wade, Caroline Spence, Donnie Jo Terry, Jane Ridenour, Annette Runyan, Fay Parkerson, Alice Whitlock, Jane Webb, Annie Laurie Thomas, Patricia Reed, Clara Welch.

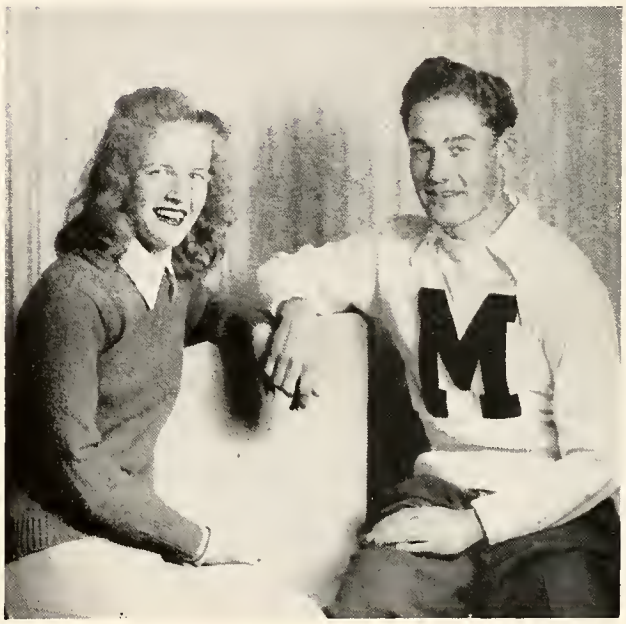
Second Year Finds Sophomores Rated Smooth? Suave and Sophisticated.

It is a well-known fact that never is one so wise, so self-assured, so able to cope with any situation, as a sophomore. Our MHS Sophs have represented the best interpretation of this truth. Their poise and ability will, we know, make a real junior class next year.



Super-duper I. B. Gonia and fair-haired Anne Willingham allow us to bask in their smiles, after being selected as sophomore candidates for the Valentine Ball.

Red-haired President Warren Chilton has two brunettes and a blonde to help shoulder his responsibilities. Vice-President Alice Davenport, left, Treasurer Jane Smith, lower step, and Secretary Betty Jo Marler will see that things go right for the sophomores.

"Freshmen faces, looking up, holding wonder like a cup" are those of June White, Miss Freshman Class, and Young Williams, Mr. Freshman Class. "A wonderful three years ahead!" their rapt looks say.

From Seventh Grade They Came to Us, Fun-loving, Frisky, Frivolous.

Full of giggles and enthusiasm are the flock of freshmen who have enlivened the campus and corridors of MHS this year. Detention hall, pink slips, and all the "necessary evils" of high school life have served only as pointers toward full participation in the vigorous educational institution that is Marietta High School.

In this case it's the dummy that's important! Louise Payne, editor, enlighters her staff. The OLYMPIAN

Mount Olympus might have become an active volcano, if it had been the scene of the publishing of this yearbook by the seniors of MHS.

The editor-in-chief, beginning early in the year, worked toward a nervous breakdown over dummies, late write-ups, difficulties of getting covers, but finally recovered, when, assisted by the ever-faithful associate editor, she finally placed the completed volume in your hands.

Discouragements suffered by the three advertising managers would have defied Hercules himself, but finally they came through with adequate advertising. The three business managers who handled the money from the Valentine Ball, the senior play, and other efforts, also deserve credit for financing the yearbook.

Sports editors, photography editors, and the art editors deserve credit, too, for their contributions to the book.

Mrs. Francis W. Bonner, the first faculty advisor, found it necessary to resign early in the year. Thereafter, Mrs. Fred Swain and Mr. H. E. Hope took over her task, ably assisting and abetting the staff in the completion of the book.

The PITCHFORK

We wonder if the gods themselves would have done a better job putting out the Pitchfork, MHS monthly newspaper, than has this year's staff. The members have done splendid work, despite the many difficulties that have confronted them. Under the direction of Ralph Fowler, the editor-in-chief, and Miss Jewell Trippe, the faculty advisor, they have published nine issues, each of which came out according to schedule.

The Pitchfork has been the official organ of Marietta High School for many years. The staff is chosen by the faculty to serve the following year. During the summer the editor-in-chief makes out his schedule and plans as nearly as possible each issue of the paper. When school begins, the entire staff gets to work. Advertisements are secured and layouts prepared. Assignments are made, written, checked, re-written and typed. Finally everything is sent to the printer. The copy is then proof read, and at long last the paper is printed.

Although the Pitchfork may receive many other honors, the Olympian staff would like to bestow a laurel wreath on the paper's page in the yearbook.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The aim of the Student Government Association of Marietta High School is to strive always to improve the school. The government has as its legislative body a Student Council made up of four officers and three representatives from each section. The members of the council are elected by vote of the entire student body.

The constitutional purpose of the Student Government Association is to "raise and maintain the standard of the school, foster school spirit, bind the faculty and student body more closely, and develop leadership and initiative." Constitutional requirements and limitations are carried out to the minutest detail by the Student Council and the Monitors and other Council committees.

The Student Government of 1944 has concentrated mainly on the sale of United States War Bonds and Stamps. As a result of the system worked out by the Council, $4,554.00 in bonds and stamps have been sold up to date. The goal set at the first of the year was $6,000.00.

Another project undertaken by the Council was to stop the congestion in the lunchroom during the lunch hour. Monitors taken from the Student Body were placed in the lunchroom to help the students get their lunches more quickly and with less confusion. This system proved very satisfactory.

Besides these projects, the Council has equipped a first aid cabinet for the school, taken charge of asembly in the mornings, and purchased song books for the enjoyment of the Student Body.

The Student Council is a good will body. It strives to carry out the projects undertaken, maintaining all the while the good will of all the students in Marietta High School.

The Diversified Cooperative Training Program is designed for students who wish to train for jobs while still in school.

This program was organized in Marietta High School in the year 1940, with Mr. C. W. Lockett as the first coordinator. From 1941 to 1943 Mr. Covington held this position until he became principal. Miss Mildred Sessions is the present coordinator.

The program here is a part of a nation-wide activity sponsored by the Federal Government. Actual work is directed by the Vocational Educational Departments in the state.

The students' school schedule consists of four periods a day—two in specialized training and two in essential subjects, such as English, with employment in some Marietta firm occupying the afternoon hours. After graduation the student is ready to go to work, usually continuing in the job in which he trained.

Requirements for this course are: student must be 16 years old; either a junior or senior; he must be doing passing work; and must possess good character. The student receives a unit for each period of work.

The D.O. Club was formed at the beginning of the year and has been active in school affairs throughout the term. The officers of the club are: Dorothy Greenway, president; Katherine Young, vice-president; Betty Lee, secretary, and Leon Whitfield, treasurer.

Our D.O. program compares favorably with other schools of the same enrollment throughout the state.

HI-Y

This year the Marietta Hi-Y has experienced the most profitable term since its re-organization in 1940. Under leadership of President Joe Abbott and the faculty adviser, Mrs. J. Rae White, the club has gone forth with all its energies and talents to accomplish its purpose — "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

OFFICERS:

During the entire year the club has been of invaluable aid to the school, and has been willing to render service whenever called upon. The school as a whole has felt the guiding influence of the club through its Bible Study Course, chapel programs, waste paper and clean-up campaigns, purchase of a new flag, keeping of the bulletin board, raising and lowering of the flag. Of these accomplishments, the most important was the annual Bible Study Course. Assembly speakers to the school at this time were Rev. Alton Glasure, Mr. Morgan McNeel, Jr., Rev. W. G. Cutts, Miss Beatrice Detrick, Rev. B. C. Spears, Dr. Willis A. Sutton, and Kemp Mabry.

The community has recognized the value of the club by asking the officers to give programs at regular meetings of the Lions and Rotary Clubs. The Parents' Night Banquet, held just before the close of school, symbolized the ideals of the club for the promotion of harmonious relations among the students, parents, and school officials. The club was honored by having as guest speaker Mr. Abit Nix, president of the Georgia YMCA.

The year 1944 has marked the apex of accomplishment in the life of the MHS Hi-Y organization. Each member has tried his best during the entire year to make his club the most outstanding that has ever existed in Marietta High. Marietta High School students owe a debt of gratitude to the Hi-Y boys for the fine work which they are carrying on.

TRI-HI-Y

After a lapse of a year the Tri-Hi-Y Club was re-organized this year, under supervision of Miss Juanita Pitts.

A delegation of five girls, accompanied by Miss Pitts, and other members of the Tri-Hi-Y, attended the state-wide Planning Conference at LaGrange in the fall.

Acting on ideas secured at this conference, the delegation elected eight additional girls as charter members, and soon after that time chose their officers and sponsors.

The Tri-Hi-Y is a Christian club whose purpose is "to create and maintain high standards of Christian character throughout school and community."

Some of the activities during the year were a clean-up drive, a clean speech program, a scrap drive, waste paper and War Bond campaigns. Tri-Hi-Y also sponsored a Go-to-Church Sunday by means of which they urged all students to attend church on that particular Sunday. The club attended the Methodist church in a body. They entertained the mothers of the club at a Mother-Daughter Banquet. Collaborating with the Hi-Y, they sponsored a Bible Study Course, inviting eight outstanding citizens of the city as guest speakers in assembly exercises.

The club has become a member of the National Association and the State YWCA.

As proof of the success of the club, a Junior Tri-Hi-Y Club at Waterman Street School was organized under Tri-Hi-Y guidance.

The club has made a forward step during the past year, even though it was handicapped by the fact that it was newly organized. As a whole, the club has accomplished a great deal and hopes that it will continue to improve in the coming years.

For years the most outstanding social club of MHS has been the Lucky 13. The objective has always been to have fun, but besides the social functions this year Lucky 13 has tried to work for the betterment of the school. At the beginning of the year two faculty advisors, Mrs. Bonner and Mr. Anderson, and three sponsors, Talmadge Hadaway, Bill Bullard and Allen Cairnes, were elected. Meetings are held at the homes of the members every two weeks. A short business meeting is held first, followed by food and fun for all! Several of the accomplishments of this year's members are as follows: concessions at several football and basketball games; buying a rope for the flagpole; holding a "pep rally" and dance with P.S. before the Thanksgiving morning game; at Christmas, playing Santa Claus for a needy family.

Because of war conditions, social functions have had to be limited; however, the club goes on, and being a member is still the desire of every underclassman.

The last gala event of Lucky 13's 1944 season was the annual girl break dance held this year at the Elks' Club. As a parting gesture the old members said to the new ones, "Miss us, and have as much fun next year as we have had this year!"

P. S. CLUB

Who supplied you with ink when your fountain pen suddenly went dry in the middle of a test?

Who straightened out the reference books in big study hall after you had left them helter-skelter?

Who quenched your thirst (not with ambrosia of the gods, we grant you), with the Pause That Refreshes?

The P. S. Club

of course! For this group of eighteen girls, chosen from the junior and senior classes, has combined fun with service to the school in its 1944 schedule. This idea of service plus pleasure was introduced into the club's plans for the first time this year.

A gigantic pep rally, preceding the victorious Cartersville football game at which an effigy of the losers was burned on an enormous bonfire, was sponsored jointly by P.S. and Lucky 13. The dance at the Recreation Center following this game was a social highlight of the year.

Mr. Rumble and Miss Nolen, faculty advisors, have been of much assistance to the club in all its undertakings.

As a climax to the year's activities, a swimming party at the Marietta Country Club, followed by a spaghetti supper will be enjoyed by members of P.S. Club and their dates.

To the junior and senior members of 1944-'45, P. S. Club says: "We hope you have as much fun as we did during 1943-'44."

GLEE CLUB

Just as sweet as the ancient lyre, and just as charming as the pipes of Pan, has been the music produced by the Glee Club under the direction of Miss Marjorie Upshaw.

Fifty-five girls, whose voices were chosen because they would blend well, have met Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week for rehearsals, in addition to other special practices.

The annual Christmas Carol program, assembling the entire grammar school student body, along with the High School Glee Club, won many complimentary remarks.

A new organization, composed of boys' and girls' voices, has been begun this year. An assembly prograf by this group was so well-received that Miss Upshaw hopes to increase the size of this mixed club another year.

Appearing on the stage of the Atlanta Auditorium during the April meeting of the Georgia Education Association, the Girls' Glee Club sang in the all-state chorus, composed of several hundred high school singers. Dr. George Howard, of Northwestern University, who was guest director of this group, pronounced it one of the best choruses in the United States.

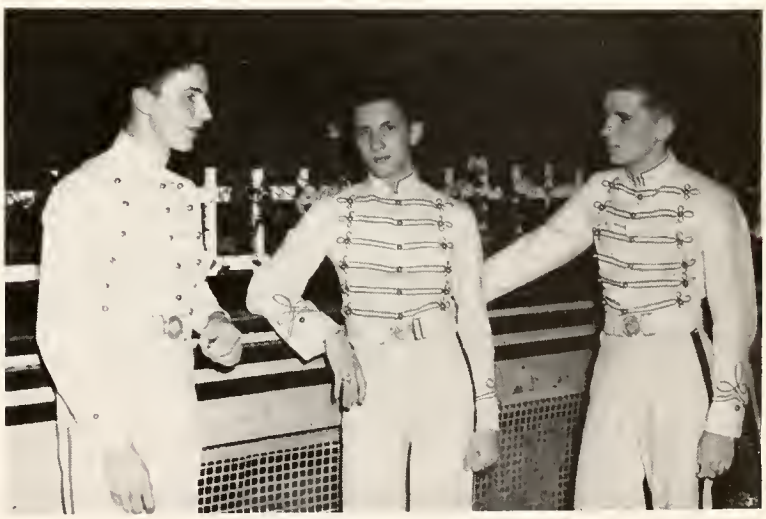
Rum-drum-drum! Here comes the band in this passing school parade of 1944. How professional it sounds! What progress it has made!

Do you remember? The band was begun in 1942 by Dr. Darden Rumble, aviation and general science teacher. A small group of musically interested students, none of whom had had previous band experience, composed the nucleus of Marietta's now poised and trained band, such as you see in this picture. These charter members worked hard under Mr. Rumble's patient but efficient direction; they grew in "quality" and in "quantity," until the spring of 1944 a reward in the form of resplendent blue and white (the school's colors) uniforms repaid them for all this effort.

During this school year the band has practiced every day during first period, in addition to frequent rehearsals often after school.



OFFICERS: Bobby Entwistle, Ralph Fowler, George Hardeman

Many public appearances of the band—on Memorial Day, Thanksgiving parade, and Assembly programs—have called forth much praise. The climax of a successful year, however, was the full length evening concert presented on April 18, in the Recreation Center. The program, embracing marches, serenades, a trumpet duet and a clarinet quartet, deserved the enthusiastic approval of students and patrons which was lavished upon it.

During the summer of 1943, Mrs. Brittain, Cobb County Chairman of Junior Red Cross, organized a group of very patriotic Marietta girls who truly desired to do something for their country. As Junior Red Cross members, their first project was to make uniforms for themselves so that the could stand out. Then they plunged wholeheartedly into the job before them. When school started they continued their work, making lounging slippers, ash trays, scrap books, nut baskets, and many other things for the wounded soldiers at Lawson General Hospital in Atlanta, Georgia. One night each week, when the materials were available, they rolled bandages.

Throughout the year they have done splendid work under the capable direction of Miss Clara Nolen and Miss Mary Ellen Smith. We hope that those students will not slacken as summer again approaches.

FOOTBALL

Hats off to Coach 'Andy' Anderson, who has really done a good job turning out Marietta sports teams during the past year. To him goes the credit for making the best possible squads out of the material he had.

The huddle. Marietta's faithful Eleven seek to mystify Cartersville.

Cordell goes down before a host of Cartersville men. Bishop, on the left, holds back the rest.

There is an old sports saying that goes: "You can't win them all," and the Blue Devils found this out when the season's record of one victory and nine defeats was chalked up. There is, however, a good side to this. The team that Marietta did beat was our biggest rival, Cartersville.

The 1943-'44 Blue Devils were light and inexperienced, but no one can say they didn't try in every game.

After the season the Blue Devils all cast their ballots for the best player on the team. The boy who won this honor really deserved it, for his playing was outstanding in every game. He is none other than "Bullet" Bill Bishop. The players also voted for the second best player, with "Corky" Cordell taking this honor. He was the sparkplug of the team and kept the boys on their toes.

'Spindle-Shanks' Ledsinger plays one of his original tackles as Cordell closes in from the right.

Though the Blue Devils lost nine out of ten games, they out-passed all of their opponents except one; yet, believe it or not, this was the one team they beat—Cartersville. Two of the receivers who did good jobs were Captain Harwell Stovall and Fred Hamby.

In the line the best players seem to have been "Red" Clackum, Ralph Howell, George Newton, "Curly" Barnes, Ronny Skelton and others.

In the backfield, beside the aforementioned Bishop and Cordell, Fields, Hadaway, Ledsinger, and LaGrone bore the burden. LaGrone entered school and joined the team in the middle of the season, but he proved to be a great help to the squad. He was the best line plunger on the team.

The grand and glorious day the Blue Devils like best to remember is Thanksgiving morning when Marietta won over Cartersville, 20-13. Bishop and LaGrone starred in the backfield for the Blue Devils that day with Ralph Howell and "Curly" Barnes taking honors in the line. Marietta scored first in the initial quarter after a long march from their own 19-yard line. Bishop made the touchdown and LaGrone scored the extra point. Shortly afterward Cartersville scored on a long pass to make the score 7-6. Marietta scored again in the second quarter and once more in the third. Toward the end of the game Ledsinger was running with the ball when, all of a sudden, to his surprise he didn't have the ball. Holden of Cartersville had the oval and had crossed the goal for a touchdown.

The game ended 20-13.

Bishop-Howell teamwork. That's one touchdown they won't get!

Scratch! Ledsinger digs off toward pay dirt with Bishop coming in for interference.

Bishop is good for another conversion. More worry for Cartersville.

BASKETBALL

The Greeks didn't seem to have a name for feminine athletes, but the name Devilettes stood for a very successful girls' basketball team this year at MHS.

By winning eight out of sixteen scheduled games the team held, at the end of the season, 405 points to their opponents 374. This is the first time in several years that the girls' squad at MHS has outscored its opponents.

Gloria Houston's agressiveness and scrappy playing enabled her to swish the nets for 136 points, while small but plenty fast Verdie Mae Palmer came in a close second with 131 points. "Two-point" Joan Kirk came in third with 90 points.

The fine defensive playing of Devil-

Top—Gloria at it again.
Center—Managers Mary Mayes and Jean Haney.

ette guards Edwards, Webb and Upshaw added much to the team's successes.

Under the capable guidance of Mrs. J. Roy Callison, the team displayed outstanding sportsmanship. Her splendid supervision and faithfulness were qualities which endeared her to the team and led them through a successful season.

The work and cooperation of the managers, Haney and Mayes, also added much to the good spirit of the team.

The Devilettes entered the Seventh District Tournament at Acworth with determination to win but came out on the losing end.

In spite of not winning every game played the team maintained true sportsmanship and lived up to the lines, "It isn't whether you win or lose that counts, but how you played the game."

That's Houston again, with two more points for Marietta.

FIRST ROW: Edwin Fields, Alternate-Captain Harwell Stovall, Captain Fred Hamby, I. B. Gonia, and Billy Bishop.
SECOND ROW: Joe Hill, Henry Williams, Lewis Ledsinger, George Newton, Warren Reece, Joe Abbott, and Don Smith.

Hamby and Ledsinger take it off the hoops.

Captain Fred Hamby and Alternate-Captain Harwell Stovall laugh things over with Coach Harrison Anderson.

BASKETBALL

The Devils, in spite of Hamby's absence, played fine ball and marched victoriously to the finals of the Seventh District Tournament held at Marietta, where Rossville, later state champions, defeated them by the narrow margin of one point.

In the NGIC tournament, held at Fulton, the Blue Devils' advance to the championship was stopped in the semi-finals by the strong Athens Maroons.

Two members of the team, Captain Fred Hamby and Alternate-Captain Harwell Stovall, received coveted berths on the All-NGIC team an honor comparable to that of winning a laurel wreath in the ancient Olympic games.

Center Hamby took top individual scoring honors, hitting the hoops for 158 points in 12 games. Second most accurate of MHS hardwood artists was Stovall, potent guard, who tossed in a total of 119 points. Fiery Edwin Fields cut the cords for 108 points, taking third scoring honors.

And so ends a record year of basketball at Marietta High. Ably directed by Coach Harrison Anderson, the team showed such determination and ability that it will be difficult for Marietta cage teams of the future to match its yet unparalleled achievements.

Bishop puts it up, while Abbott waits to take it off the board.

Manager Ralph Fowler takes things easy, as usual.

BASEBALL

Because of the bad weather in the early part of the spring, the baseball team started practice very late and were handicapped by their lack of experience.

The prospects didn't look very good at the outset of the season and it was prophesied that they were destined for the cellar of the NGIC, but all who prophesied this were mistaken.

In the opening game of the season with Commercial, the Blue Devils took an early lead. Commercial soon jumped ahead for an inning or so, but the Blue Devils soon forged out in the front again, winning 8-7. Quarles was pitcher.

West Fulton, last year's champion, came to town next and routed the Blue Devils 17-2.

Bouncing back from that defeat the Blue Devils beat the strongly favored Fulton Redbirds, 5-2. Sam Maddox pitched his first game and did a wonderful job, allowing the Redbirds only two hits.

Marist was next on the list, and the Blue Devils polished them off by the neat score of 5-2.

When Marietta's biggest baseball rival—Decatur—came to the home field, the best game of the season got under way. Edwin Fields stole home in the ninth to tie it up, and then Stovall knocked across the winning run in the eleventh. The score, 11-10.

Marietta went to Commercial to play them for the second time and this time the Blue Devils had no trouble in giving them a 15-3 beating.
